Meet The Jingle 4 – Santa's Elite Elf Team!

These four famous elves are legends at the North Pole, each with a magical specialty that helps keep the holiday season running smooth and joyful:

🎄 Glacia – The North Pole's Snow Expert! She ensures every snowflake sparkles just right and keeps the sleigh routes clear with her frosty finesse.

🎄 Orville – The only elf who can fly! With a swoosh and a giggle, he soars through the skies, scouting ahead for Santa's sleigh.

🎄 Snoop-Nog – Keeper of Christmas Spirit! He monitors joy levels around the globe and makes sure the cheer is always near.

🎄 Gordon – The fastest elf in the world! Whether it's toy deliveries or cookie runs, no one can catch Gordon once he dashes off!

Together, they're the Jingle 4—
Santa's top-secret team of merry mischief, magic, and Christmas cheer!

❄ 1. Glacia, the Snow Show Elf

Not all snow is the same — and no snow is as magical as the kind that falls at the North Pole! That's why Santa gave Glacia a very important job: she shows children what real North Pole snow looks and feels like. She carries a pouch of dried snow that all we need to do is add a couple of table spoons of water and it turns into North Pole Snow. The snow will keep perfectly fluffy and cold, even far from home. When Glacia mixes it, children can touch the snow, hold it in their hands, and feel the chilly magic that covers Santa's village all year long. Some say if you close your eyes while holding a pinch of it… you might even hear reindeer hooves in the distance.

PROPS: 1) "Glacia" is a doll you make yourself. You can use Barbie and GI-Joe clothing to enhance the look of your elf doll. Be creative. 2) Decoder [set to the word "FROSTY"] 3) Snow in seconds 4) Glass jar (vile) to put in decoder 5) Small bowl to put snow in.

✨ 2. Orville, the Flying Elf

There's only one elf who can fly — and that's Orville. He was born with the wind in his hair! He zips through the air helping Santa guide the sleigh, untangle tinsel from tall trees, and rescue runaway bows. But there's one thing: no child can ever see him move. The magic simply won't allow it! So when it's time to prove he can fly, we cover Orville with a black cloth and lift it gently… and that's when the fun begins. He swoops, twirls, and glides under the cloth — you'll feel the air shift, see it ripple, and know Orville's soaring beneath. Keep your eyes wide and your hearts open… you might just catch a sparkle.

PROPS: 1) "Orville" (named after Orville Wright) is a doll that you make yourself. You can use Barbie and GI-Joe clothing to enhance the look of your elf doll. 2) Weight to attach to his bottom and shorts to cover in-case the weight falls off. 3) Grommet make to put gromment in his back for rod to make him fly. 4) Red felt put on front and back of cardboard attached to his jack and back with grommet hole in it for rod. 5) Black large (non-see-thru) bandana to cover elf when he flys. 6) stiff rod to hole him that will be hidden to make him fly.

🎁 3. Snoop-Nog, the Spirit Checker

Snoop Nog is Santa's official Christmas Spirit Tester — a very serious (and very silly) job. Every November/December, he travels far and wide with his special kit of enchanted props to make sure holiday cheer levels are high.

When Snoop Nog visits, he may ask kids to help with a few silly experiments: Can they shout "Merry Christmas!" loud enough to light up his Claus-o-Meter? Or grab on to a "Spirit Stick" watch out for the "Hand-Bubbler." If the spirit is down he may ask the children (and adults) to do a 30 second dance party to some spirited Christmas tunes.

PROPS: 1) "Snoop-Nog" is a doll that you make yourself. You can use Barbie and GI-Joe clothing to enhance the look of your elf doll. 2) Claus-o-Meter 3) Spirit Stick [energy stick] 4) Hand-Bubbler 5) 30 second dance party.

🔔 4. Gordon, the Speedy Elf

Gordon isn't just the fastest elf at the North Pole — he's faster than a cookie disappearing at Santa's Christmas party! Santa made him the official runner, responsible for delivering magical messages before they can even be spoken aloud. Gordon wears green super boots, and his incredible super fast, super hero outfit. When children gather, Gordon runs around the room at elf-speed (don't blink!), and just when you think you imagined it — ding-a-ling! The bell rings all by itself! When you hear it, you'll know Gordon's made a full lap and your Christmas wishes are on their way.

PROPS: 1) "Gordon" is a elf on the shelf. His costume is made up of a converted elf on the shelf hero costume with the Flash Gordon logo printed and laminated to be glued to his chest. 2) Magic Bell

Jinx, Stage Assistant Elf

Jinx is Santa's most unpredictable—and most bashful—assistant. As a unofficial member of the Jingle 4, Santa's elite elf team, he's in charge of stage materials. But unlike his spotlight-loving teammates, Jinx prefers to work behind the scenes... quite literally.

He lives in a small, custom-built box house decked out with a white picket fence and holiday decorations, and he's fiercely territorial about it. A hand-painted sign reading "DON'T TOUCH!" is always on display. If someone dares to open the lid, they might get a puff of glitter to the face or hear an impish giggle followed by a mysteriously vanishing cookie.

Despite his shyness, Jinx has a heart as warm as hot cocoa. He loves Christmas and dreams of spreading joy, but in his own mischievous way—by tying tiny bows on sleeping reindeer or switching Santa's cocoa with marshmallow fluff. Santa adores him and is always gently nudging Jinx to come out and meet the children. Sometimes he does, peeking out just enough to wave or pull off a harmless prank.
Jinx is the elf you never quite see coming—but when you do, you can't help but smile.

PROP: To build Jinx and his house box it is actually very easy but decorating can take some time. Items for this prop build can be found on Amazon, and are listed below. Jinx's house box cost under $100 (you can spend more depending how you decorate it). Another option for a high-end version is to purchase something similar through Patty Blonco - $525.00 w/ Shipping : YouTube Example: https://youtu.be/jTggUk8-8Yc

STAGE, Props to help tell the story better.

Each of these enchanting elves will make their grand entrance from something delightfully magical, adding an extra sprinkle of wonder to the experience. Once revealed, each elf is lovingly placed on a charming, decorative seat set atop a table in front of the children, complete with a personalized name sign to mark their special spot.

Their seating area is crafted from a 2"x2" base, transformed with a lush covering of green “grass,” and adorned with a miniature bench and festive decorations—all securely affixed to create a cheerful holiday scene. When not delighting young hearts, these magical displays are carefully stored within a grand treasure chest, ready to bring joy again and again.
