

SANTA'S TOP REINDEER

Once upon a time at the North Pole so cold, Santa had thousands of reindeer, we're told. But only nine made it to the top, for they had qualities that didn't stop.

Dasher was swift, the fastest of all, racing through the sky, she'd never fall. Dancer could move with such grace, her steps were as light as lace.

Prancer was noble, with a heart so true, always doing what she was asked to do. Vixen was sly, and oh so quick, never one to play a dirty trick.

Comet was bright, with a spirit so bold, Lighting up the sky with a shining gold. Cupid was loving, spreading joy and cheer, making sure Santa's gifts would bring a smile ear to ear.

Donner was loyal, a true friend indeed, always there to lend a hand in need. Blitzen was strong, with muscles of steel, Pulling Santa's sleigh, with an unwavering zeal.

And then there was Rudolph, with his shiny red nose, Guiding the way, through rain, sleet, and snows. Each one of them had a quality rare, Making them the best, Santa's special reindeer.

With courage, truth, honor, and grace, Fidelity, hospitality, self-reliance, and industriousness in place, Santa's reindeer were ready to go, Spreading Christmas cheer, all aglow.

And so, on Christmas night, they soared through the sky, Delivering presents to every girl and guy. Thanks to Santa's reindeer, with hearts so true, A merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night too!
